BOOK AWARDS

SUBMIT YOUR ENTRY HERE

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Anyone can submit an entry for consideration during the online open call for entries from October 3 through November 30, 2023.

What can be entered?

Cookbooks and other non-fiction food or beverage-related books that were published in the U.S. in 2023, are eligible to enter the 2024 James Beard Book Awards. Books from foreign publishers must bear a 2023 U.S. copyright date and/or must have been distributed in the U.S. during 2023.

Format

Books may be hardcover, softcover, or digital. Digital books must be viewable across all devices, using widely available downloadable software.

Language

Books must be published in English or multilingual, with English being one of the languages.

Content

All content must be original. Any quoted or compiled material must be properly attributed to the original source. Revised editions of previously published books must contain at least 50 percent new material. (When entering, please include a statement describing new content.)
Which category should I enter?

View the category descriptions below and enter whichever category you believe best fits the work. The Book Committee reserves the right to re-assign any submitted entry to a more appropriate category.

Can I enter more than one category?

The only category where it is permissible to enter material that is also entered in another category is Visuals.

Can my entry be disqualified?

Books that are too commercial, fiction books, cards, and other novelties are not eligible. An entry is too commercial and therefore not eligible for entry if the principal purpose of the piece is to market a product or service. The committee reserves the right to remove, combine, or separate categories when appropriate, re-assign categories as appropriate, and may disqualify entries due to ineligibility, conflicts of interest, or other ethical violations. Additionally, all entries must include an impact statement (for more information on the impact statement, see below).

Who receives the award?

- Each winning author receives a medallion inscribed with the award category and a certificate.
- Authors and contributors are determined by the entrant and specified on the online entry form.
- A book with multiple authors may receive up to three medallions for the first three authors listed on the entry form.
- Contributors only receive a certificate.
- Up to six authors and contributors may be listed on a certificate.
- The medallion and a certificate for the Visuals category are given to the winning designer, photographer or, in the case of a team collaboration, up to three authors or editors at the discretion of the publication. This must be specified in the entry form.

Additional certificates may be ordered after the awards ceremony. No additional medallions will be given.
Impact Statement

The James Beard Awards honor those who are creating exceptional food, food media content and better food systems while demonstrating a commitment to racial and gender equity, community, sustainability, and a culture where all can thrive.

The application process requires a short statement, written (150-300 words) or recorded (audio or video, 1-2 minutes) by the author. We require that the entrant (author/writer that is being considered for an award) submit an impact statement. We will not accept impact statements from publishers or publications that are not specific to the work being submitted.

The statement should describe the impact of the book and how the work aligns with the Foundation’s values: equity, transparency, respect, integrity, and community. This is a chance to share what this work means to you and the community in your own words. Please write or speak in the first-person, be specific, and use clear, pertinent examples when possible.

The statement will be reviewed for content and not for language fluency, video quality, or production value. It does not need to be long. It is not a writing or video contest.

More information is available on the entry form.
ENTRY SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Print
Send eight copies of each book. Books cannot be returned. If the book is only available digitally, please indicate this on the entry form.

Shipping Address:
Quick International Courier
C/O James Beard Books
200 Robbins Lane, Suite E
Jericho, NY 11753
Attn: Kathy Canarte

Entry Form
Print your online entry confirmation and include it with your book shipment. If you are unable to print your confirmation, please include a handwritten page that includes the entrant’s name, book name, and category for entry.

Digital
You will be required to upload the final PDF of the book through the online entry portal. Electronic files must not exceed 500 MB in size. An electronic copy of the book must be submitted, in order for the book to be considered for the Awards in all categories.

Entry Deadline
Entries must be submitted by November 30, 2023. Book shipments must arrive by December 6, 2023. If your book was published in 2023 but will not be available for shipping until after December 6, 2023, please contact the Foundation staff at awards@jamesbeard.org to request a late shipment arrival.

Entry Fee
– $85 per entry.
– The James Beard Foundation is committed to making the application process accessible for all. You may request a fee waiver if the $85 entry fee presents hardship. Your application will not be penalized if you select this option.
CATEGORIES

Baking and Desserts
Books with recipes focused on the art and craft of baking, pastries, and desserts, both sweet and savory items, including ingredients, techniques, equipment, and traditions.

Beverage with Recipes
Books with recipes focused on beverages, such as cocktails, beer, wine, spirits, coffee, tea, or juices.

Beverage without Recipes
Books without recipes that focus on beverages, such as cocktails, beer, wine, spirits, coffee, tea, or juices; or books that cover these subject areas where recipes are not the focus of cooking, not just a single topic, technique, or region. Should be no more than 20 percent recipes.

Bread
Books with recipes focused on the art and craft of making bread, including ingredients, techniques, equipment, and traditions.

Food Issues and Advocacy
Books that focus on investigative journalism, food policy, food advocacy, deep dives, and critical analysis of the changing social landscape around food. Should be no more than 20 percent recipes.

General
Books with recipes that address a broad scope of cooking, not just a single topic, technique, or region.

International
Books with recipes focused on food or cooking traditions of countries, regions, or communities outside of the United States.

Literary Writing
Narrative nonfiction books, including memoirs, culinary travel, culinary tourism, biography, reflections on food in a cultural context, and personal essays. Should be no more than 20 percent recipes.
BOOK AWARDS

Reference, History, and Scholarship
Includes manuals, guides, encyclopedias, and books that present research related to food or foodways. Should be no more than 20 percent recipes.

Restaurant and Professional
Books written by a culinary professional or restaurant chef with recipes that may include advanced cooking techniques, the use of specialty ingredients and professional equipment, including culinary arts textbooks.

Single Subject
Books with recipes focused on a single ingredient, dish, or method of cooking. Examples include seafood, grains, pasta, burgers, or canning. Exceptions are baking and desserts books, vegetable-focused books, restaurant and professional books, and beverage books—which should be entered in their respective categories.

U.S. Foodways
Books with recipes focused on the cooking or foodways of regions or communities located within the United States.

Vegetable-Focused Cooking
Books on vegetable cookery with recipes that are meatless, vegetarian, or vegan.

Visuals
Books on food or beverage with exceptional graphic design, art, or photography. Should be no more than 20 percent recipes.

Cookbook Hall of Fame
The Book Committee selects the honoree for this category. No entries will be accepted for this category. This award is given to either a cookbook that has significantly influenced the way we think about food, honoring authors who possess an exceptional ability to communicate their gastronomic vision via the printed page, or an author whose cookbooks and other culinary books and work, taken together, make a difference in the world of food and cooking.

Emerging Voice
The Book Committee selects the Emerging Voice award winner, and the winner does not have to come from entries. This award recognizes work of immediate impact and lasting significance by a first-time published author whose unique perspective expands the reach of the subject matter. The medallion and a certificate are given to the winning author.
